A writer in the Journal, with more brass in his face than brains in his head, follows up the assertion of the editor that Judge Woodward, the Democratic nomines for the Supreme Bench in Pennsylvania, is a Native American, and says that it is notorious "that Woodward while a member of the Constitutional Convention of that State a few years since, used his powerful talents to engraft in the new Constitution one of the most objectiontend the time of naturalization to twenty or twenty-five years, and made a long and able speech urging its adoption," and concludes with the triumphant exclamation, " Will W. J. Brown deny this?"

William J. Brown does deny it. Let the amendmen be produced-let the long and able speech be published. The whole story bears on its face its own refutation. What has the Constitution of Pennsylvania to do with the naturalization laws?

Nothing. That power belongs alone to Congress States may permit unnaturalized persons to vote; but no action of theirs can affect the uniform naturalization sws of Congress.

Levi L. Todd.

This gentleman, who is the Democratic candidate for Judge of the Common Pleas for Marion County, has not attended themsetings of the candidates; believing that candidates for judicial offices ought not to engage in the discussion of party politics. The Judge on the bench should not know the politics of any man. These are the views of Mr. Todd. He will make no stump speeches. His competitor has chosen a different course. He is making speeches. This, however, will not change the determination of Mr. Todd.

Tr William A. Graham, the Whig candidate for Vice President, has written a letter to prove that Scott is sound on the nigger question. This is the most natural thing in the world. Self preservation is the first law of nature-Graham is in the same boat with Scott, and they of course will row together. Wonder if Scott won't write a letter declaring that Graham is perfectly sound

We don't know any such thing. We do not believe that John H. Bradley, was the choice of the Whigs of this district. The New Hampshire Test--Letter from Gen. Pierce.

John E. Warren, Esq., of Troy, (who was stopping at the time at Cooperstown,) has kindly furnished us with the copy of a letter (the original of which is before us,) from Gen. Pierce, mest emphatically putting to rest the calumny which the Whigs so pertinaciously and absurdly continue to reiterate, charging General Pierce with favoring the existence of the odious reli-Pierce with favoring the existence of the odious religious test, in the organic law of that State. This denial of Gen. Pierce is prompt and emphatic, and meets the calumny plump in the face. He most truly says that "the charge is contradicted by every word and act of my (his) life, having reference to the question in any form directly or collaterally. I advocated (says he) the call of the Convention for the amendment of the Constitution, which assembled in November, 1850, and the most prominent object in my own mind was to strike the unjust prominent object in my own mind was to strike the unjust and odious provisions commonly called the religious and property qualification tests, from our fundamental law."
No candid man will need any further evidence of the utter falsehood and recklessness of the Whig attempts to present the position of Gen. Pierce, on this subject. no honest man will longer persist in such attempts

MY DEAR SIR:—It is impossible that a charge should embrace a more direct attack upon truth, than that with which the Whig papers have teemed in relation to my sentiments upon the religious test contained in our State Constitution, which was adopted in 1792, and never amended since. The charge is contradicted by every word and act of my life having reference to the question, in any form directly or collaterally. I advocated the call of the Convention for the amendment of the Constitution, which assembled in November, 1850 and the most prominent object in my own mind was to strike out the UNJUST and ODIOUS provisions commonly called the religious and property qualification tests from our fundamental law.

Gen. Scott and Black Hawk.

The Whigs have tried many ways to prove Gen Scott's qualifications for the Presidency, but without effect. "Recently, however," says the Union, "they They have discovered that had a high opinion of Black Hawk, the Indian Chief. Gen. Scott's qualifications; and we must con ess that the savage chief reasoned more honestly from the lights before him, than the better clad and more civilized men who would, after their recent experience, make the General-in-Chief of the army, the Chief Magistrate of "Black Hawk had been taught from his infancy to scorn the arts of peace as only fit for squaws, to look with sovereign contempt on all civil employments and malifications, to judge of a man's talents by counting the scalps which hung at his belt, and to estimate the quantity and quality of his brains by the size of his limbs and the strength of his muscles. There is fitness i bringing forward Black Hawk's testimony.

'A nomination which was produced by the sinister influence of an incendiary faction, and which is sustained by appeals to the worst passions of men, should have the endorsation of a savage chief, who contemned peaceful industry and honest labor as degrading, and who regarded war as the noblest employment on earth the tinsel of a military uniform as more beautiful than the robes of wisdom, and a bloody scalp as the proudest trophy which could be worn by man.

The Tehuantenec correspondence shows that the Mexican Government, when it rejected the Tehuantepec Treaty and annulled the Garay grant, accepted the alternative of war. They expected war as the conse quence, and strange enough, many prominent mer courted war, for the reason that it would result in an There are many intelligent and patriotic men in Mexico who are well affected towards the Uni-ted States, and who despair of the organization of good government at home, and, therefore, would be glad if the United States would take possession of the country. d, therefore, would be glad if The documents lately communicated to Congress on it many eminent citizens co were strongly in favor of the ratification of the Tenuantepec treaty, but did not dare to stem the torrent of popular prejudice against it. The Mexicans generally cherish the most bitter enmity towards the U. States and their clamor overcomes the government. The re sult must be continued difficulties with Mexico, ending perhaps, in war, and the military occupation of the country by the United States.—Phila. Sun.

TParson Brownlow, of the Knoxville (Tenn.) Whig, talks after this fashion in regard to the prospects of the Scott party in that State. The Parson is a Fillmore talks after this lasmon in regard to the prospects of the Seott party in that State. The Parson is a Fillmore Whig, and hence, has no particular sympathy for the Democratic nominee:

"What will Tennessee po?—This question is asked on all hands, and frequently the inquiry is made of us, by letter, and from a distance. We reply, that Tennessee will go for Pierce and King, by not less than pull, upon a thorough canvass of borth parties last summer, was so close, that the Whig ticket only triumphed mer, was so close, that the Whig ticket only triumphed by about 1,600 of a majority. In that contest, the Whig party went into the fight with undivided ranks. They now go into the Scott fight with divided ranks and councils, and they must inevitably be beaten. To carry this State, every Whig vote is wanted, in every county, but they cannot be had. There will be a falling off in every strong Whig county, and when the returns come in from the whole State, Scott will be where he ought to be, greatly behind in the contest. Mark our predicts and treasure it up, for we charge nothing for it!"

This gentleman, who is now a candidate for Congress, as published an address to the people of the Sixth Conlay evening in Tammany Hall, intended to prove that the vetran aspirant is no 'Old Fogy' but as progressive tice to my reputation requires I should notice. His attempts at wit and sarcasm prove nothing, and therefore call for neither a reply nor retaliation. It is the following passage in his address which I desire to notice

"I know well the situation, politically, of the district, and the causes that made it so, and I desire the calm attention of the Democratic citizens of it, while I lay before them some things concerning it, which have probably never been brought to their notice. It was all armanged that the Center District of the State should be so would like to be thus calumniated. I can look every constituted as to elect on by particular men, and for this pose certain prominent leaders arranged and example and defy the world to point out and prove a dishounded counties, bargained for and bought and sold voable action of which I was ever guilty. urpose certain prominent ters, to elect one another to Congress. The voters themselves knew nothing about it, were not consulted, but were transferred without stint, and in many instances with great injustice.

"It was thus that the Bluffs of White River were hitched on to Vincennes—that Hendricks county was sent over to Illinois—and the counties of Madison and Brown were locked arm in arm. You may well ask who did this thing, and why was it done? William J. Brown, then a member of the Legislature, now the editor of the Indiana State Sentinei, did it, and it was done to elect the self-same William J. Brown to Conress. The people of Marion county sent him there to egislate for their interest: while there he was careful to provide for his own. He refused all association with the Democracy of the counties of Hendricks and Morgan, but took to his bosom the more distant county of "The Democrats of Shelby and Johnson could be made useful to him, and they were retained; but had they been so unfortunate as not to have constituted a majority of the votes in their counties, he would doubt-less have tumbled them into the Ohio, as he did the Democrats of Morgan and Hendricks into the Wabash. He arranged the District for himself-and upon the adournment of the Legislature he immediately became a andidate for Congress."

He then proceeds to charge that I was never fairly nominated for Congress. That is a question between myself and my political brethren! with which he has nothing to do. They elected me without either his aid or the aid of his party; thus confirming by their votes what had been previously done in Convention.

Now, for the first time, it is charged that I acted cor ruptly, in the formation of the old fifth district, in 1842. There is no charge that the sixth district, formed last winter, in which Mr. Bradley is now a candidate, is not as square and compact as it could have been formed.

This is a new story, manufactured by John H. Bradley, because he dare not assail Mr. Hendricks, his com-

In 1842 I represented, in part, Marion county. I was In 1842 I represented, in part, Marion county. I was a Democrat. My constituents on all party questions expected me to vote with my party; but I was entrusted with a large amount of local business for the city of Indianapolis and the county of Marion, and did not give much attention to the districting bill. By reading the above extract a stranger to this bit of history would suppose that I had controlled the whole matter—that the fifty Senators and ninety-nine remaining members of the House were moulded by me like clevin the bands.

the House, were moulded by me like clay in the hands of the potter. This is an extent of influence which was never before claimed for me, either by friend or foe.

I never met with the Districting committee but once.

Dr. Davis, of Sullivan, was the chairman. On the 29th of December, 1842, he reported "Bill No. 143—a bill to divide the State into Congressional Districts."

I moved to lay the bill on the table, and that 100 copies be printed—stating that every member should read the bill for himself. See House Journal, page 228. During the pendency of this measure I never made a single motion except the one mentioned, whilst the Journals will show that John H. Bradley made more than all the rest of the 100 members put together. He took more interest in the districting bill than any member on the floor. These facts the Journal will prove and the members of that session, both Whigs and Demo erats, will hear me out in the assertion.

Of what does Mr. Bradley complain? Ist. That Morgan (Bluffs of White River) was attached to Knox, (Vincennes). That Hendricks was sent to Illinois— meaning that it was attached to the Terre Haute district-and that Madison and Brown counties were located arm in arm. We now propose to examine who did this thing. Bradley says "William J. Brown, then a member of the Legislature, now the editor of the Sentinel, did it, and it was done to elect the self-same William J. Brown to Congress." Now let us see what the Journal proves. The fifth district in the bill, as it came from the committee, was composed of the following counties: Bartholomew, Shelby, Johnson, Morgan, Marion, Han-cock, and Hamilton. Neither Madison or Brown was in it, but Morgan was.

Journal, page 429. In that shape the bill passed and went to the Senate. In that body the Whigs had a majority, and had full power to shape the bill to suit them-selves. In the Senate the bill was referred to a select committee composed of three Whigs and two Demo crats. Mr. Parker, of Fayette, now a Whig member o Congress, was chairman. He repo ted the bi with four amendments, as follows:

1st. Strike Franklin from the Third and add it to the Fourth.

2d. Strike Madison from the Fourth and add it to the Fifth, (Indianapolis).

3d. Strike Morgan and Brown from the Fifth and add hem to the Sixth, (Vincennes). 4th. Strike Hendricks from the Seventh and add it to the Eighth, (Lafayette). 5th. Strike Fountain from the Eighth and add it to the Seventh. (Terre Haute).

Mr. Ewing, Whig, proposed a bill in which Hendricks was attached to the Indianapolis District. This motion received the vote of 18 Democrats and 2 Whigs, whilst 27 Whigs and 3 Democrats voted against it.
See Journal of Senate, page 442. So much for sending Hendricks to Illinois. The proposition to attach Madison to this District and to hitch the Bluffs of White River to Vincennes, originated with a Whig committee and was passed through the Senate by a Whig vote every Whig voting for it and every Democrat against it See Senate Journal, page 434. The remark will apply to Madison county In that shape the bill pas The House refused to concur in these amendments by separate votes. On the question of seading Madison county to this District, John H. Bradley voted AYE and William J. Brown voted No. On the question "hitching" the Bluffs of White River to Vincennes, John H. Bradley voted AYE and William J. Brown voted No.

and so on through the whole list. Committees of conference were then appointed on the part of the House and Senate. In the Senate, Messrs. Parker of Fayette. now M. C., and Defrees, our own Johny, and in the House, Messrs. Robinson and Gorman. In the Senate, Mr. Parker made the following report: "The committee of free conference, appointed by the Senate to confer with a similar committee appointed on the part of the House, relative to the matter of disa-House, entitled 'an act to divide the State into Con-

Which was concurred in. See Senate Journal, p. 495.
Messrs. Parker and Defrees yielded every other amendment for the sake of locking Madison and Brown arm and arm, and "hitching" the Bluffs of White River to Vincennes. A similar report was made in the House

We have now given the history of this matter drawn from the records. We have proved our assertions at every step. What now will the people of this District think of the Whig candidate for Congress? A more un-qualified tissue of falsehood was never before manu-factured, and for what purpose, Heaven only knows.

The Louisville Times, of Monday last, says: "We had the pleasure on Saturday of receiving the visits of those two distinguished veterans of the Demo-eratic army, General Joe Lane and Mr. Speaker Boyd, who were passing through our city. The old 'Marion of the Mexican War' looks as game as when he was engaged in hunting down Santa Anna, Parades, and Padre Jarauta, or pitching into the guerrillas wherever he could catch them. The Hon. Speaker is in fine health, notwithstanding his arduous labors of nine long months at his very arduous post. Both were in high spirits at the certain success of the Democracy in the Presidential contest. They think it is hardly any fight at all."

PATENT CORPSE PRESERVER.—They will continue to use this valuable apparaus. The object for which it is intended is perfectly to preserve corpses from decay for any length of time, without being anywise offensive to delicacy, or unseemly in appearance. The value of such a machine cannot be estimated but by those tender feelings which long for the preservation of a departed friend, and among those who have been compelled to use it on account of the fast decaying of their friends, a general and pleasing satisfaction has been given; for none can speak too highly of such an important and useful invention. Benevolent institutions, and all others who desire to delay Funerals until the arrival of distant relatives, or to make suitable preparation for interment, can, by the use of this machine, preserve them for weeks in a perfectly inoffensive state, allowing all to gaze upon them.

FRENCH TUITION.

ONS. A. DERVILLE, of Paris, a native of France, respect-fully informs the citizens of Indianapolis, that he will give instructions in this fashionable and useful language; and by the close analysis of his method of teaching, his pupils will be enabled to speak the language.

Also, Mons. D. can teach any lady to sing in the French Language and pronounce as correctly as French ladies, without being obliged to study the entire language.

If any person has not the time to study, they can, by an hour's conversation per day for three months, learn enough of the French language for traveling.

Private lessons given in families and schools. The following certificates have been given to Nons. D:-

This is to certify that Mons. A. Derville has given mestructions in French to a class in the Female Institute of this place, to the entire satisfaction of the patrons, and that I esteem him a highly successful teacher in that language; and further that at our late public examination several of his pupils performed French songs, at the piano, which they had prepared under his instruction, and that the execution was complimented by those acquainted with the language.

Charlestown, Ind., August 24th, 1852.

The undersigned take pleasure in stating that they have this day attended an examination of a portion of Mr. A. Derville's pupils in the French language; and that they have never witnessed greater pro gress for the space of time em ployed (four months) than habeen made by the pupils examined. Their pronunciation was adsmirable, and they translated with great facility from French into English, and from English into French; and maintained with ease a conversation in French on various subjects with their teacher. We take pleasure in recommending Mr. D. as a teacher of the French language.

Fire and Water-Proof Composition Roofing Material Fire and Water-Proof Composition Roofing Material
THE undersigned respectfully beg leave to call the attention of the community to this invaluable material for Roofs. In the eastern cities it has almost entirely superceded all other kinds of Roofs, and in this city, although but recently introduced, has in every instance given the most entire satisfaction. Arrangements are now perfected by which the subscribers are enabled to execute all orders for the Roofing Material, either in town or country, at the shortest notice, and on the most favorable terms.

They are economical in construction, as they effect a considerable saving of side and cross-wall, which goes far tewards paying their cost, and are a protection against fire, presenting an incombustible surface to burning bodies falling upon them. Being nearly level, they may be used conveniently for all the purposes of common yards. The daily use of Roofs, to which we can refer, sufficiently attests their durability for those purposes. Orders respectfully so-
